PLACE ARMED GUARDS

Electric Company Places Patrol And Night Illumination to Guard
Property Against Plotters.

The Janesville Electric company today is guarding its Indian Ford dam with armed men after alleged threats of dynamiting the structure by farmers in the village of Lake Koshkonong because of the abnormal level of the lake, eight to ten feet above ordinary for this season of year and inundating hundreds of acres of pasture land and mud guards were patrolling the shore line today.

Searchlights for the illumination of the dam at night. H. Korst, general manager of the Electric company, this morning said that the guard would be kept until the present trouble had abated.

Await State's Decision.
This need is expected to continue until the Wisconsin railroad commission hands down a decision as to whether the Electric company in rebuilding the dam a year ago constructed a higher level of the dam than the structure which the new one replaced.

Farmers owning property about the lake claim this and last winter prepared and presented a petition to the railroad commission requesting an investigation of the dam, their purpose being to have the level lowered and incidentally prevent the submerging of low lands in the lake.

Because of prevalent high water this spring the commission has been unable to make an investigation of the depth of the river and the strong current making it impossible to make soundings.

Old Fued Renewed.
It was noted that the mutterings of the property owners against the dam were first heard, rumors and intimations that the only method to alleviate the trouble was to dynamite the dam.

The lake is ten feet above normal. The release of this ponderous weight of water would carry everything before it. What the results would be in this city is inconceivable.

There is no doubt but what the danger in Janesville would be great if the dam was dynamited, said Mr. Korst.

"The river at the present time is travelling with the speed of a bullet and the water is on rampage and releasing the lake waters and everything in their path would go."

What Would Happen.
Trees, bridges and everything of every kind would be swept down the river. The Fourth avenue bridge might be swept away like chaff before the wind.

The upper dam would be menaced, and might go out and below the Milwaukee and Madison bridges might be damaged out, all interweaving in a great mass against the piles and buildings on the upper side of Milwaukee street bridge, causing great damage.

While there is but scant danger of such really happening the description is one drawn from the strength of the water once it was released. The Electric company is guarding its property against its own loss which they claim is threatened by individuals who would be endangered by such a catastrophe.

Would Blast Structure.
Chief of Police P. J. McGee, in discussing the trouble, said that the Electric company, the Milwaukee and Madison bridges might be damaged out, all interweaving in a great mass against the piles and buildings on the upper side of Milwaukee street bridge, causing great damage.

These towns are on the Crawfish river which is tributary to the Rock River. The dam is a menace by a wide opening and that all efforts to close the breach are unavailing because of the high and swift water.

At Russellville, where the city of Stoughton is building a municipal water power plant for electric service, the dam has gone out.

Lake and River Rising.
Lake Koshkonong today has an inch higher than yesterday. Here the water has risen three inches and it is three feet higher than the average for the first of July for years past.

Four feet of water is ordinarily at the Indian Ford dam and there is none.

This season of year there is none. H. Korst said the waters of the Rock River are normal and that the plant at Fulton is running at normal and the high water power because here are forced to revert to steam and the wheels are developing but one-fourth their capacity, all because of high water.

Rains to the north and northeast are accountable for the trouble. The Electric company officials and the residents of the village of Lake Koshkonong contrast Rock river conditions with those in the Lake under water.

Up the river pasture lands are flooded. Similar conditions exist here and there. In the lowlands on the Town Line bridge it was at one time submerged as it was at the time of the great ice jam of January 1916.

Visitors to Koshkonong yesterday say that some farmers living near the shore are forced to go from their pastures to their barns in boats. In past years at this time it is possible to wade the river just above the dam at the Ford.

At least one attempt has been made to dynamite the dam which is now threatened. This was about ten years ago. An explosion occurred but all the dynamite failed to go off. When word came rebuilding the dam last

Russ Capture 80,000
Prisoners In Drive;
Open Gap In foe's Line[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Petrograd, July 2.—According to news received by the government the offensive on the southwestern front is developing in an absolutely favorable manner.

Take 80,000 Prisoners.
General Kaledines who captured about 80,000 prisoners in a forward movement last night and who is known as the breaker of the Luft front has been chosen hetman or leader of the Don Cossacks.

Continue Advance.
The new Russian offensive has resulted in the capture of 8,000 more prisoners. The Russians are advancing toward Zlochoff, Galicia, the war offices announce. Twenty-one guns and several thousand prisoners captured. Prisoners continued to be brought in. The number of prisoners taken in the fighting southeast of Berezan on Sunday is given as fifty-three officers and 2,200 men.

Russian troops have occupied the Galician villages of Presovce, Vzoroff and Korshidiv. The Austro-German forces have retreated westward across the Stripa river.

Berlin Admits Line Broken.
Berlin, July 3.—Russian troops have broken forward across the heights on the western bank of the Vistula and succeeded in extending northward the gap they made in the Teutonic lines the previous day, army headquarters announced today.

German Attacks Fail.
Paris, July 3.—The Germans made repeated attacks last night on the Aisne front on both sides of the Allied positions. The morning fighting continued throughout the night. Today's official announcement says the Germans were thrown back each time and finally abandoned the efforts this morning.

In Ypres Salient.
Berlin via London, July 3.—The artillery bombardment on western front yesterday reached considerable strength in Ypres salient, says a statement issued today by German war department.

At Konluichy, the German statement says, strong Russian attacks broke down with heavy losses. The Russians did not find it necessary to repeat their attacks against the Berezan heights.

year at this time they discovered a large box of the explosive which had failed the plotters.

Local Conditions.
With the water feet deep over the crest of the dam, the river is higher now than it has ever been in July since the electric company has kept records of the rise and fall of the water.

The height of the water above normal is equal to the record rise during the spring freshets and according to A. W. Woodworth, chief engineer of the power house, represents a record rise for this time of the year.

Through there have been reports in Janesville that dams have gone out at Jefferson and Vinterville, investigation showed that the reports were unfounded. The water level at the dam is normal.

The release of this ponderous weight of water would carry everything before it. What the results would be in this city is inconceivable.

There is no doubt but what the danger in Janesville would be great if the dam was dynamited, said Mr. Korst.

Peking, (delayed) July 3.—According to an edict issued in the name of Hsuan Tung, the young emperor, who was put back on the throne today by the restoration of General Chang Hsun, President Li Yuan Hung has submitted to the monarchy.

Li Yuan Hung memorializes us to take over the government, stating that he was forced by the troops during the first revolution to become the nation's head. He bemoans his defects as head of the republic and asks us to punish him. We recognize his mistakes, and also his merits. We hereby appoint him a duke of the first class.

Order Prevails.
The imperial emblem is everywhere displayed, marking the restoration of the manchu monarchy. There has been no disorder. In a long edict, Emperor Hsuan Tung, who was restored to the throne today, explained how, being useful, he was forced to relinquish sovereign powers of Yuan Shi Kai, the late president of the Chinese republic.

The country being threatened with disintegrations and party strikes and the people appealing to him to take over its administration to save the nation from suffering, the emperor says he was compelled to take action. China's future government will be based on the following:

Back to Old Regime.
The republic shall be administered according to the constitutional laws promulgated by the late emperor. "Excesses of the imperial household shall remain as those fixed by the republic. Blood relatives shall not be allowed to interfere in politics."

"There shall be no difference between Manchu and Chinese. Marriage between the two races shall be permitted. All foreign treaties and contracts shall remain in force."

"The stamp-tax and other petty taxes are abolished. The criminal code is abolished, and that introduced the first year under Yuan Hsuan Tung's government is reinstated. Political offenders are pardoned. The wearing of the queue is optional."

One hundred Chinese had arrived to strengthen the legation guard. There was no news of the late Li Yuan Hung's expected resignation.

LAWYER SENTENCED
IN RAILROAD CASE

Chicago, July 3.—Because Judge Landis decided that Wm. R. Brand, attorney for certain bondholders of the C. & M. Electric railway had failed to protect his clients' interests, Brand was sentenced to sixty days imprisonment and fined $1,500 in the federal district court today. Brand appeals and will have a hearing Monday.

In pronouncing the sentence Judge Landis characterized the "justly celebrated road" as an "obnoxious slim of rails from Chicago to Milwaukee." Brand's clients are Mrs. Mary L. Brand, his daughter, and her father. They held $88,000 of the road's bonds when it was tossed into the bankruptcy court.

Grant Three Divorces: Divorces were granted by Judge Grimm in circuit court this morning to the following: William Foss of this city from Alice Foss on the grounds of desertion; Edna Davis of Beloit from Charles Davis on grounds of cruelty and non-support; Mae Austin of Janesville from William Austin on the grounds of desertion and non-support.

Under the bill the apples when packed may fall into one of four classifications: "Wisconsin Standard A," to consist of hand picked property packed apples of one variety, which are all well grown, ripe, of normal size and shape, free from dirt and disease and shall not vary in size more than one-half inch in diameter.

Second—"Wisconsin Standard B," shall consist of hand picked property packed apples of one variety, which are well grown specimens, normal in shape, of not less than fifty percent good color for the variety, free from dirt and disease.

The enforcement of the law is vested with the commission of agriculture. The contention is that with this step toward standardization, the interum committee investigating marketing may be able to suggest additional legislation to bring the apple industry to the fore.

His plan, which has been approved by eminent military and medical men, proposes to effect this by intensive application of medical and surgical science. That more than 90 percent of the men who will be rejected under the conscription law can be made physically fit in three to six months, is Dr. Quayle's claim.

Says Coal Prices
Set By Government
Would Boost Cost[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, July 3.—Clifford Thorne, representative of the Iowa league of municipalities told the senate interstate commerce committee today that if tentative coal prices arranged last week between the operators and the council of national defense became permanent, they would cost consumers $700,000,000 last year's soft coal bill.

The tentative prices he made permanent he said, prices which operators in the Indiana field have been receiving in the last six months, would be increased over fifty per cent.

Mr. Thorne declared the tentative coal prices are from fifty to one hundred percent greater than voluntary contracts entered into within the last three months, between operators and railroads for the ensuing year.

"We are protesting against even a tentative price fixing agreement," said Mr. Thorne. He wanted prices fixed by a government agency.

RACINE MATINEE
ON 4TH TO DRAW
BIG ATTENDANCEBenefit for Co. M, Program of Four Races and Spurt to Break Local Track Record Scheduled.

Weather tomorrow afternoon like that of this morning should bring a big crowd out to the opening of the local racing at the driving park. Today saw much enthusiasm among the followers of fast horses and conditions were indicative of a large attendance. This was further augmented by the fact that a number of women and girls were planning to attend, not because they are so ardent in their devotion to horse racing, but because their attendance will help boost Janesville's military company's fund.

Twenty-five percent of the gross receipts is to be donated to the company's coffers.

While the entire matinee is proving a big attraction, perhaps the greatest interest centers in the trial spurt of Prince Verton in the attempt to break the local track record of 2:04 1/2, held by Joe Patchen for three years. Ed Harris will drive Verton. A hundred dollar purse, staked by the directors for the horse which can smash the local record, is the goal Harris is striving for.

There are four races on the program and all will be run on the mile track. The first heat of the race will commence at 1:30 sharp. This is the 2:22 trot, two of three heats to the winner.

Co. M will attend in charge of Captain Galt, and will give an exhibition drill.

ENACT LAW FIXING
GRADES OF APPLES[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., July 3.—Although Wisconsin is a great apple producing state it was not until large numbers of apples were packed for shipment that an effort was made to secure legislation fixing the standard grades of apples packed for shipment. The bill, which was introduced in the legislature, was practically unnoticed until it was just signed by Governor Philipp.

Under the bill the apples when packed may fall into one of four classifications: "Wisconsin Standard A," to consist of hand picked property packed apples of one variety, which are all well grown, ripe, of normal size and shape, free from dirt and disease and shall not vary in size more than one-half inch in diameter.

BULLETIN.
East St. Louis, July 3.—Fires which were started by rioters in the negro quarters at noon were fanned by a high wind and spread rapidly, getting beyond control. A great fire alarm had been sounded and all fire fighting apparatus went into action.

Troops and police have hurried to the scene of the fires, where crowds of rioters also are assembled.

Five or six negro shacks are on fire and the flames spreading rapidly. Three hundred dwellings, mostly negro, have been destroyed by fire in the rioting last night, according to a statement made today by Fire Chief M. J. Tovin.

East St. Louis, July 3.—Although it seemed to many that the orgy of butchery and incendiarism which cost many lives here last night and today was over, rioting broke out again this morning. Frank S. Dixon of Illinois asserted this morning that he feared there would be more trouble tonight.

The six companies of guardsmen who were on the ground last night, the school general explained, were numerically inadequate to cover the territory covered by riots. He feared even the five additional companies which arrived later would not be enough to patrol the city nor to make sufficient display of strength to establish authority.

Recover Twenty-Four Bodies.
A survey of the casualties in last night's rioting taken at 7:30 this morning showed twenty-four bodies recovered including three white and twenty-one negro.

Estimates of the bodies supposed to be under acres of ashes and smoldering debris, where fires consumed scores of negro shacks and houses last night, run into the hundreds.

Saloons were closed. Sleepy-eyed guardsmen with marks of fire fighting still on their khaki, patrolled the streets and guarded bridges and the school doors. Otherwise the city appeared normal. There were broken windows here and there, other wreckage and debris carried the acrid smell of water soaked wood.

Refugees in San Plight.
The negroes driven from their homes, huddled here and there seemingly anxious to keep out of sight. Five hundred of them, mostly women and children, spent the night at the city jail. Two men were still sleeping in one bathtub when the sun rose, and another was in a chest, but not asleep.

The floor was packed with disheveled refugees.

Due to Negro Importation.
The causes underlying the disturbances are said to be of interest to many other northern communities where negro labor has been brought in from the south to replace the whites in armed forces of the United States.

In East St. Louis with a population of about 84,000 persons there was already a large negro colony and the influx increased the proportion of negroes in the city.

Unrest among the whites smoldered and even flamed up last May when in a small riot three negroes were shot and wounded and a number beaten, but feeling did not run high in general.

Race antagonism, however, was quickened by the arrival of soldiers, quiet was quickly restored.

The city was quiet, but the conditions elsewhere in Poland are equally grave, being particularly serious in Lodz.

Petty crimes are said to have increased; disease likewise. The whites began to feel they would be saddled with an undesirable element.

Would Lynch Mayor.
An incident of the night indicated the temper of the mob. One crowd went about the streets, shouting against the mayor. "Let's get Mollman," they cried. "He's the man that brought in the soldiers."

The cry was raised because of a false rumor that Mayor Mollman would be well paid in East St. Louis. As a matter of fact the mayor visited Chicago and conferred with Mayor Graham and others to discourage the negroes from coming.

To Set Date of Vote
Upon the Food Bill[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, July 3.—Holding the new cloture rule in reserve, administrators today made another futile attempt to get the opponents of the food bill to agree voluntarily on a time for a vote.

Sensor Chamberlain in charge of the bill, warned the senate that more than two weeks had already been up in discussion of the bill. He urged the use of the "steam roller" as he had no desire to "imply that there has been any filibuster."

Without record votes and with little debate the senate adopted many important committee amendments to the bill including the section defining and punishing hoarding of necessities, and provision for government licensing of imports, exports, manufacturers, storage mining and distribution of necessities.

Any addition of cotton and its products to articles which the government would control, voted yesterday by the senate, today resulted in increased opposition to the bill. Southern senators proposed a new clause, to strike its cotton clause, while others planned to offer amendments later eliminating many other articles from the "control" section.

MILWAUKEE GREET
BELGIAN MISSION[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Milwaukee, Wis., July 3.—Wisconsin today extended her sympathies to the Belgian mission.

A mission of that war ridden country visited the state's metropolis and also other points, which extended the hand of welcome to the diplomats.

A meeting in city hall square was the welcome Milwaukee extended to the mission here. For a short period the commission stopped to hear the broken Belgian.

Afterward they were taken on an automobile tour of the city.

The commission arrived at noon, accompanied by Troop A, the reception committee and city officials. They proceeded to luncheon. Immediately afterward the mass meeting was held. Later the commission left for Green Bay and other northern points of the state for similar meetings.

PAT MORAN, MANAGER ONE OF THE GREATEST

Every once in a while some one wonders why Pat Moran isn't considered one of the greatest of baseball managers, thereby giving Pat more consideration for what he has done than any other man in baseball—with the possible exception of the party who has become the game's greatest repudiator.

Pat, in fact, is the recipient of more favorable publicity than any other man in the two major leagues. No one ever writes or says anything bad about him. He is always referred to as a jolly Irishman, ready to talk and smile while he's doing it.

Moran's accomplishment this year in throwing his team into a hot race with the Giants for the leadership of the National league is worthy of more consideration, perhaps, than any other he has pulled since he supplanted Charley Doan as leader of the Quaker men. He has done more with a team of has-beens and misfits than the New York Giants have accomplished with a high-salaried team of stars.

The Giants were expected by a majority of critics to have it all settled and laid away along about this date. But they haven't done it yet, and indications right now point to anything but a pleasant journey for Herzog et al. at the rest of the season.

Pat Moran's infield composed of ancient Fred Luderus, castoff Bert Niehoff, rookie McGuffigan or competent Dave Bancroft, and castoff Milton Stock, is the main reason why when rated alongside Grover Alexander. These two things, backed with the comeback of Gavy Cravath, the continued good baseball of Dolh Paskort and George Whitted are whooping things up. The Phillies would not be so good in a world series as the Giants, for the Giants consist of men who would be practically unbeatable in a world's series. But it's going to take a lot of baseball and a lot of hard fighting to keep Pat Moran from taking the race right down into the home stretch.

Next year Pat will be counted a stronger factor.

LANGFORD, BLACK STAR THROUGH WITH RING

Admittedly always one of the best in his class, but always shunned by champions, black and white, Sam Langford, negro heavyweight, is through.

He fought them all. Sam did. He never barred any of the heavyweights. He lost fights—plenty of them, but he won most of them. His defeat at the hands of Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavy, is something no man has accomplished in a decisive fashion since he began wrecking hopes of near-champions.

Gunboat Smith once had an idea he had stopped the career of Langford as a prominent heavyweight when he outpointed the black demon in Boston in 1913. He was so confident he went back for more and Sam stopped him.

Harry Willis defeated Langford in 1916, and in his very next fight Sam popped Willis on the chin and stopped him. Sam never and Joe Leach both have victories to their credit over Langford, but Langford has knocked out both these rivals.

Since Langford began fighting as a featherweight his record runs down the list of great fighters in every division. He fought Joe Gans when Joe was a whizz and he won in fifteen rounds. He outpointed Young Griffo, the marvel. He stopped Willie Lewis, a draw with Joe Walcott and lost to Jack Johnson before Jack became champion.

Jim Barry, now dead, was a persistent challenger of Langford and he always was accommodating. He stopped Jim several times and won many other victories over him. Jennette, Willis and McVey appear many, many times in Langford's record, and he holds the best of these clashes by a good margin.

Langford was the only man Jack Johnson really feared when Johnson was champion. He was the only man Johnson refused consistently to have anything to do with. When Jim Jeffries was champion Langford was little better than a middleweight, but he was fighting heavyweights even then. Langford challenged Johnson repeatedly. Many efforts were made to get Johnson to meet him, but Johnson paid the Boston tar-baby the compliment of always squirming away.

JULY FOURTH.

One hundred and forty one years ago tomorrow there was signed in the old Quaker city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, a paper which made this country free and independent of any foreign power and formed the nucleus of the present vast republic of the United States of America. There were only thirteen colonies then, a narrow strip of settled country along the Atlantic sea coast. The arid western country to the Mississippi was unknown territory, west of the river to the Pacific Spain and France claimed domains.

Tomorrow in France there will march through the streets of Paris, an armed force of the pick of the troops of the United States, no longer a puny colonial community, but one of the most powerful nations in the world, carrying the stars and stripes and a message of peace and aid to our ally of one hundred and forty one years ago, now at war itself and fighting for its national existence against a foe which would dominate the world.

Tomorrow in England, our foe of those days of long ago, the American flag will fly proudly in the breeze, side by side with the English emblem. On the battle line somewhere in France, the stars and stripes will wave and even in Russia honor will be paid to the new ally that has come across the broad Atlantic to aid in the struggle of nations against a power whose aim is destruction of existing condition and enforcement by arms of a dogmatic doctrine of internationalism.

Here at home this nation will commemorate the day in a more sober manner than for years past. There will be more of the community idea, more of the same celebration. Troops will march, addresses will be made, the famous paper signed so many years ago read for the benefit of the citizens who may not remember its contents and the nation will pause in its rush to the day of a holiday, the birthday of a nation whose future is bound up in the armed force that guards our honor and integrity on a foreign soil.

This will be a peaceful Fourth this year, but no man knows what the future has in store for us or how we will meet it. A year from today it is expected that a million men will be under arms, the cream of our younger generation, either actually at the battle front or undergoing intensive training for war service. Tomorrow we should gaze proud at the starry flag that floats above us and utter a silent prayer for the brave men it protects who are offering their lives in its defense. This is to be a day of rejoicing and yet the solemnness of the occasion can not be over estimated.

All honor to this nation and its government. All praise to the brave men who have enlisted under its standard. All respect to the wonderful women who give of their time, offer their sons and their dearest to the cause of humanity. Tomorrow is the day set aside for commemoration of deeds of the past for thoughts of the future, the birthday of a great and powerful nation.

THE SCOUTS WORK.

Democratization of war, the Boy Scout movement means to this country has never been more clearly demonstrated than at the present crisis in our federal history. These men of the coming generation have responded to the call for duty, have worked as messengers in training camps, have acted as aids in preparedness parades, have marched long miles in Memorial Day, Duty Day and given lovely parades and have solicited funds for the Liberty Bonds and acted as aids for the Red Cross campaign. What has been enacted right here in Janesville has been true of every community. Non military in their teachings they are being trained to become good and useful citizens, to bear their share of the responsibilities of the nation and as they increase in numbers so will the burden now borne by older soldiers be lightened. It is a grand and glorious organization and the citizen who fails to appreciate what it offers for the youth of today to learn the forgotten art of woodcraft, to know the birds and the beasts, the trees and the flowers, how to care for themselves, to be obedient to orders, to understand the meaning of discipline, fails to appreciate advantages that did not come in his childhood. The men at the head of the movement are earnest in their efforts and the result is shown whenever a scout is called into some service. The Janesville troops could well be increased in number and membership to the advantage of future generations.

KEEP UP PAYMENTS.

Some bankers of a doubtful turn of mind are saying that many people who have bought Liberty Bonds on the installment plan will fail to keep up payments. Perhaps the men who say that are out of sorts on account of the task imposed on them of keeping account of these payments. This is some job.

There are of course a great many people who never make a success of installment payments. Insurance companies find many lapses among those who have taken advantage of the plan. The policy holders lose by lapsing, but they have not the grit to keep up. In the installment furniture business there is a chance for crooked work in taking advantage of the many people who fail to keep up their payments. No doubt people of this kind have bought many Liberty Bonds.

A dollar a week will make some people very tired after awhile. They will see so many things they want to spend the money for. Every candy shop, every cigar store, every movie show calls to them, and will not be denied.

The people who have taken the larger bonds usually know where the money is to pay for them and will hand over the cash promptly. The lapses will be principally in the smaller issues. So the government will not lose such a tremendous sum. But such lapses will increase the work of raising the needed war funds and spread abroad a feeling of lack of support of the government. It is intermittent patriotism, good at flag raising, but poor at doing anything. Many thousands of people have taken these bonds who have never acquired before the habit of saving money. It is a test of character for them, a measure of their ability to achieve success. If they can put this thing over, they will have got something more than the $50 or $100 bond. They will have acquired the saving habit, which is the foundation of business success. Keep up the payments!

However in spite of all the fun they poke at the new graduates they do ask some questions about a job other than whether it provides sufficient money and ice cream money for the present moment.

The native Americans have been worrying lest the aliens wouldn't fight and from the way the aliens turned out Registration Day they have probably been worrying lest the natives wouldn't fight.

No wonder the Russian peasants are intoxicated with their new freedom, as to them it means freedom from working, fighting, or anything disagreeable or unpleasant.

Some statesman's idea of promoting patriotic sentiment is to lay a prohibitive tax on the newspapers that are the principal agency for promoting that sentiment.

The food speculators should remember that when they get all the money in the country there won't be any left to buy the supplies they have cornered.

When an automobile is offered very cheap to some dealers they consider it more prudent not to ask any questions as it might prove to have been stolen.

It is not necessary to beat fighting spirit into the heads of the Pacifics, as their heads are soft enough anyway.

The new graduates are eagerly looking for jobs as literary editors, factory bosses and bank presidents.

Among the other friends of the Kaiser which we can all get after are those bug pests out in the garden.

Great suffering is expected in the baseball bladders if the players are drafted for military service.

The flag dealers' idea of patriotism is getting out bunting at more than double the former price.

EVANSVILLE ENTERTAINMENT MAKES BIG SUCCESS

Evansville, July 3.—The entertainment entitled "American Spirit," given at the opera house last evening under the very efficient directorship of Mrs. R. R. Edwards, deserves more than passing praise.

The best entertainment ever given by local talent in this city. After an overture by the Holmes orchestra, the curtain was raised for Act I, showing the story of the American flag.

The tableau of this act, showing the drummers, Donald, Tolles, Stanley, Runey, W. C. Critchfield, followed by Robert Hartley as George Washington, General Morris, E. J. Ballard, Major Ross, Merle Ayers, was especially good, as was also the solo, "Revolutionary Tea," sung by Mr. Critchfield.

This act closed with the "Soldiers' Chorus," sung by thirty voices. Between curtains Mr. Olson of Stoughton gave a solo that was so well received that he was forced to respond to an encore. Mr. Olson has a voice of remarkable sweetness and expression and hardly a move was heard in the huge audience during his singing.

The scenic grouping of Act II, "The Spirit of the 40's," was very good, showing the camp and growing campfire around which was seated a group of soldiers singing. Into this scene is precipitated Sambo, a young negro and the part admirably taken by Lynn Roberts—who in the interchange of dialogue with the soldiers gives a humorous touch to the scene.

His dialect interpretation of "Lincoln's Speech at Gettysburg," was remarkably well given. During this scene Miss Florence Emery of Madison as "Miss Liberty" danced a very beautiful patriotic dance.

Miss Emery's dancing was very artistic and finished and she was forced to respond to an encore. This act closed with the "Anvil Chorus" given by the soldiers. Act III opened with Miss Harriet Greene as the "Spirit of the Red Cross," interpreting what the Red Cross stands for throughout the world. This was followed by a solo, "We're for Home and Liberty," sung by Miss Barbara Pearsall. Miss Pearsall's beautiful voice was at its best, and she was splendidly adapted to the song she sang. She was assisted by a chorus of ten young ladies dressed as Red Cross nurses, who sang their parts charmingly. The Boy Scout spoken song, "Your Flag and My Flag," was very well given by five Boy Scouts in a manner that more than pleased the audience. The solo, "U. S. A. I Need You," given by Miss Esther Franklin, assisted by the Althea chorus of twelve young ladies, was very well given. Miss Franklin's sweet voice was heard to good advantage and she entered into the spirit of the song. The next solo, "The Last Lanta the Spuds," was given with vim and flourish by Marc Webb. Mr. Webb never fails to please his audience and his voice seemed admirably suited to the song he sang. The last solo, "We're for America," sung by Miss Ruth Haylett, with a chorus of the entire cast. Miss Haylett's voice rang out sweetly and clearly, that well deserved the applause she received. The last act, reading "1917," splendidly given by Loyal Baker, and in a manner that carried conviction to the hearts of his audience and impressed upon them his billity as a reader. The entertainment closed with the chorus, "The Star Spangled Banner." From the opening to the closing the entertainment was a grand success and reflects great credit on those who made it in charge, Mrs. R. R. Edwards as director, Mrs. Catherine Cherril as assistant and Mrs. Gertrude Eager, pianist. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rowley and son were given the privilege of the latter part of last week.

TOUR OF INSPECTION MADE OF PROPOSED FEDERAL AID ROAD

F. M. BALSLEY OF HIGHWAY COMMISSION MAKES PRELIMINARY SURVEY OF BELLOIT-JANESVILLE ROUTE.

IS FIRST TO BE BUILT

State Engineer Has Already Given Assurance That This Is the First Stretch to be Constructed in State.

F. M. Balsley, a representative of the state highway commission, has completed a preliminary survey of the proposed route of the federal aid highway between Beloit and Janesville. Engineers and surveyors will be sent here shortly for the purpose of making the detailed survey for construction purposes, according to County Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore, who has lately been in communication with State Engineer Hirst in regard to the project.

Mr. Hirst has promised that the Beloit-Janesville road will be the first stretch built in the state under the federal aid plan. It is the logical route on which to begin construction and the petition of Rock county citizens asking for an early consideration of the route between the two cities was among the first to be received at Madison. In addition the county board of supervisors went on record last fall in favor of a survey of the Yost park route which is being urged for the federal aid highway.

The preliminary survey takes into consideration the general character of the route, the number of houses on it, the cross-roads which intersect it, the number of mail-boxes, gravel pits in proximity, and other general information. One of the requirements of the federal aid act is that the federal aid roads shall be post roads, a condition which offers a problem in some instances under the Wisconsin law which prescribes that the federal aid road shall be a main highway connecting two or more county seats and all cities of 5,000 population or more. The report on the preliminary survey which will be made of the proposed routes over the Beloit-Janesville road and the agricultural department at Washington for final approval.

Mr. Balsley expects to return to Janesville next week when he will make an inspection trip over possible routes from Janesville. There are two which will be given consideration. One is by way of Edgerton, to Scourgon, across to Oregon and on to Madison, and the other by way of Evansville and Oregon. In case the latter route is decided upon, it is probable that the shortest route will be the more desirable, it will be necessary to build a spur to Stoughton, since it is a city of 5,000 population. Mr. Hirst is anxious to build the Beloit-Janesville road this fall if possible, but it is hardly probable that all arrangements can be made, since it will require action by the county board of supervisors in passing a bond issue to provide the funds. The federal aid is available in five yearly payments, only two of which are due at the present time. The federal expenditure must be met by an equal amount from state and county.

To Connect With Monroe. Aside from the north and south roads there will eventually be another federal aid road out of Janesville, connecting with Monroe by way of Hanover, Orfordville and Broadhead. It is probable that the preliminary survey of this route will also be made in the near future.

WANT OF LICENSES SHUTS DOWN LID AT SOUTH JANESVILLE

NORTHWESTERN HOTEL AND AUTO INN ARE CLOSED PENDING DECISION BY TOWN OF ROCK BOARD.

"DRY" FORCES ACTIVE

Numerous Protests Against Giving Permits to Roadhouse Proprietors Made to Township Supervisors.

South Janesville roadhouse bars were "dry as Sahara" yesterday and today, and the south end of the town is still in need of fifty men. The town of Rock board has failed to grant either Frank Williams a liquor license for his Northwestern hotel or one for the South Janesville auto inn. The town meeting for the purpose of considering saloon licenses was held a week ago Monday.

Whether the South Janesville town will continue to remain blunted is undecided. The board can still grant the licenses, but these will be held up at least several days—perhaps longer.

The only question now is, who gets the license, not will they be renewed for Dietz or Williams. M. C. Finley, a member of the board said this morning.

Voters Make Protests.
The board will hold another meeting this week, the exact date not being definite. The question for the roadhouses will be brought to a definite head, it is understood.

For several weeks past town supervisors have been continually approached by voters of the township who argued against "giving those fellows over in that corner of the town a license."

In the face of the continued activity on the part of the voters it appeared that the prohibition forces were organized especially for the work of impressing on the minds of the board the fact that two South Janesville roadhouses were not wanted.

In the April election when the town had the local option question on the ballot, the voters overwhelmingly voted against the "wet" proposition by a majority of twenty-five votes, over two hundred ballots being cast, a record for the township.

"Dry" of Defeat at the polls the "dry" forces were not abashed but silently and steadily worked forward to their present victory. At this time they are securing 1917-1918 liquor sale permits.

Of the two roadhouses, the one controlled by Williams, the most conspicuous in the eyes of the public, Dietz runs the Auto Inn and it has been his boast that he has always maintained a "clean" establishment.

He has refused to give a license to any "chasing" women and men couples and in a general way preserving order to the best of his ability to live up to his license.

Attorney Stanley G. Duwiddie who has a case against him in Circuit Court charging the Northwestern roadhouse as a community nuisance, has not been active in the running of his place and according to the complaint, the place is an evil resort.

TOMORROW GREATEST 4TH IN U. S. HISTORY

The Declaration of Independence will be a day of great meaning for every patriot in Wisconsin tomorrow.

One hundred and forty-one years ago the document which set a new liberty in the world was signed. The celebration which followed will be commemorated Wednesday, and the terrific war which followed is about to be commemorated by the idealists of this generation.

With these facts in mind the state—practically every inhabitant, man, woman and child will observe Independence Day tomorrow.

Every town, city and hamlet will mark with historical programs the day which has been set aside for honoring the United States came to life. Parades will give vent to the spirit of 1917 as did the great demonstration in Philadelphia over a century and a half ago.

In Milwaukee a great historical pageant will be staged at Mitchell park. Thousands will witness the scenes of 1776 as they are played out before the eyes of the people.

Bands will play patriotic hymns and thousands will stand with bared heads while history is repeated.

It is a day when the youth of the nation will be reminded of the great sacrifices for liberty. At Eau Claire, Senator Roy P. Wilcox, a much mentioned gubernatorial candidate will turn loose a volley of verbal abuse at the alleged lack of patriotism by certain members of the state assembly.

The plea for a "sane Fourth" will be generally observed throughout the state. The burning of powder is indicated, whereas a greater spirit of patriotism is manifest. The general movement for conservation of the "safety first" campaign has been working for years.

However, despite less explosions there will be more noise than usual, here and there from the throats of lusty cheering marchers and watchers in the demonstration that will be more numerous than ever before.

SAFE AT BORDEAUX A. W. POND CABLES

Janesville Young Man's Father Receives News This Morning—Enters Ambulance Service.

"Safe at Bordeaux," cabled today by Alonzo W. Pond to his father, W. S. Pond, of this city, brought welcome relief to the several weeks of suspense and worry of the young man's relatives and friends here since he left this city early in June, bound for France to enter the Red Cross Ambulance corps.

Mr. Pond, 24, is a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Pond, is also with Pond. Both families shared in the satisfaction to know that the two boys had reached their destination, their steamer having escaped the submarine.

After several weeks training Pond and Loomis will be assigned to duty on the French front, driving Red Cross ambulances. Their friends will wait letters from them detailing their experiences, with keen interest.

Edwin Pond, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Pond's younger son, is now in the U. S. army, is probably that he will be assigned to duty in France some time this fall.

TRANSFER EDGERTON PLATOON AT ONCE; WANT 50 MORE MEN

Takes Sixty-One Men Away From Local Company—Edgerton Men to be Part of Stoughton Unit.

Orders have been received commanding the transfer of the body of men known as the Edgerton platoon of Company M to Stoughton, where they will be members of Company D of the Rock Regiment.

The transfer, which takes sixty-one men away from the local company, will be made at once, according to Captain E. N. Caldwell.

The wholesale transfer of men has reduced the local company's strength to less than war enrollment, and despite the fact that a good number of men have enlisted since the recent recruiting campaign was started, the company is still in need of fifty men. It now numbers 125, fifteen more than at the outset of the campaign.

Of this number, however, nearly all are from towns throughout the county and but seventy-five represent Janesville's contribution to the unit, a number far less in proportion than any of the cities in this part of the country have contributed. Every effort will be made by the men and officers of the company to build up the enrollment before the national guard is mobilized into federal service.

Of the 125 men now enlisted, there is every possibility that a number will be thrown out by the rigorous physical examinations given at Camp Douglas, so unless more men are recruited at once there is a good chance that the unit would go into actual service with a better than a peace strength footing.

A good drill of all the new men, including the fifteen new recruits, was held last evening at the armory, and in answer to Captain Caldwell's call for more men, several men were recruited that they had friends whom they believed could be induced to join the company. Every man pledged to do his best to secure at least one recruit.

Many many rumors have been stated that the time for mobilization of the state guard had been changed, Adjutant General Holway yesterday announced that the war department had ordered that July 15th as the date, and that the state guard would be mobilized on the fifteenth of the month at their home posts, there to stay and train for a few days before going to Camp Douglas.

The following men have enlisted within the last few days: William Millard, Richard Krueger, Laurence Griffin, Leo Lamphere, Henry Banker, Kenneth Wells and Fay Richardson.

SILVER CAMPAIGN IN COUNTY IS MEETING WITH SUCCESS
So far this year one hundred and twenty farmers of Rock county have joined the silver campaign, many of them as a result of the intensive silo campaign which has been conducted by the state through the county agent and other officials. Previous to this year the silver campaign had 1,289 silos listed on the 3,763 farms of the county, and it is the aim of the department of agriculture to put a silo on every farm of the county.

The silo campaign, which has been pushed by Mr. Markham for the last few days, is showing good results and it is expected that the number of farmers who realize the importance of silos will be increased. The silos are constantly growing. Cards have been sent to every farmer in a number of the townships, bulletins have been issued, and meetings held in many of the rural communities. The interest has grown so rapidly that the campaign which was to have closed the fourth will continue indefinitely.

KNITTING COMPANY GROUP HAVE PICNIC AT YOST PARK
Twelve couples of Lewis Knitting company employees last evening enjoyed a picnic at Yost park. They were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Salter. The evening was spent in games and dancing in the garden. A sumptuous supper from well-stocked hampers was had except to the chagrin of Nellie, who was the victim of the theft of a cauliflower from the plates of herself and escort.

BEWARE OF RATTLE SNAKE THAT IS SIX FEET IN LENGTH
Mrs. Kennedy, who lives at 1127 Center avenue, reports that a rattle snake, some six feet in length, with numerous rattles, appeared in her garden Monday afternoon and despite her attack upon the reptile with an ax, escaped into the Milwaukee quarry. Mrs. Kennedy feels that the snake should be warned of its danger. The fact that many children play about this quarry and the huge snake probably has a mate and a nest of young ones.

URBAN CARS CRASH NEAR YOST PARK

Swiftly Running Passenger Car Smashes Into Repair Car as Crew is at Work—No Serious Injuries.

Traveling at a rate of speed passengers estimated as at least forty miles per hour, a Rockford and Interstate car rounded a curve this side of Yost Park Friday and before the motorman could use his emergency brakes crashed into a repair car halted while men on a trolley worked on the roof of the car, repairing the trolley.

Both cars were badly damaged. The repair car was knocked from the rails. Eugene Reilly of this city, jumped and sprained his ankle. Mrs. Dennis Morrissey, 214 Center street, was also on the car. In the excitement she lost her spectacles. Several other passengers were slightly injured, but none to the extent of seriousness. Men standing on the roof platform were thrown off the car and stopped only when the smoking compartment door barred further progress.

Passengers say the brakes of their car failed to respond immediately when they tried directly after the accident. They worked but spasmodically, it is said. This, of course, may have been due to trouble resulting from the collision. The accident occurred about 1:30 p. m. and it was necessary to transfer passengers around the wreck for several hours.

County Institute Will Open Monday
Session will be held during month of July at Rooms of Teachers' Training School.

Superintendent O. D. Antield will conduct a three-weeks' institute for the benefit of the teachers of Rock county, from July 3rd to July 26th. The institute will be held in Janesville, as usual, and the training school rooms will be used for carrying on the work, the same as last year.

Those who plan to attend should be present Monday morning, July 16th, not later than nine o'clock, as the classes will be organized and the program finally adjusted at that time. Each teacher should be provided with pencils and tablets, as well as a copy of the common school manual.

On Wednesday, July 11th, the classes will be discontinued, and the entire membership will go to the high school building for the day to attend the school board convention.

W. E. Larson of Madison, state inspector of rural schools, will be present Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. On Monday and Tuesday Mr. Larson will give very helpful instruction on the teaching of history. He will have regular class work in this important subject from ten to eleven and from two of three on the two days named.

It is very important that every person who plans to attend the institute should bring with her a copy of some good United States history. Don't forget to do this.

On Wednesday Inspector Larson will be the prominent part of the program at the high school. The institute will be organized and conducted on business principles. All the regulations of the institute should be followed. The system successful. The faculty and the student teachers are expected to work, as heretofore. Time servers are not welcome. A spirit of good fellowship will be maintained. Social recreation will not be neglected.

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years old. When I was fifteen years old I used to go with a boy in our neighborhood. We went to school together and were the best of friends. I have an aunt who lives near both of us. She was amused at our puppy-love affair and used to tease both the boy and me until we could not stand it any longer. We stopped going together, but she didn't even speak again. He went off to school last year and since he has been back he recognizes me. I know that he doesn't like me and never will again. I have got over hating him the way I used to after my aunt teased me so much, and I would like to go with him. Don't you think that is not meddling with other people's business?

Dear Mrs. Thompson: About a year ago just before I completed school I met a very nice young man. At first we acted as mere friends, but as time passed we became much friends. I then visited her and her parents at their home several nights a week. Her parents all welcomed me. At the close of school I went to work and could not possibly see her, and at time she left town. We had not met since the close of school. I then tried to get in touch with her until just at the present time. I now have her address.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been reading with much interest your advice on kissing and think it very good as far as it goes, but I am afraid you stop like most women when you come to the men and give them a pat on the back and blame the girls. As to the girl who signed as "Your Friend," her talk was very good, but you know there are not many girls who are as wise as she. Those boys she tells about who make a confidant of her are much worse for asking the girls for their kisses just because they are out for a good time and do not care what becomes of the girls than the girls for allowing the boys to kiss them; and the girl who will listen and laugh with the boy who is just as bad in my opinion. She said when those boys marry they will seek girls who have kept their kisses. Why do they deserve any but the kind they have cheapened? True, they deserve it, but I think they are getting a good girl and find after it is too late that they have been deceived the same as they have deceived the girls, not caring what becomes of them so long as they have a good time.

FROM A LOVER OF GIRLS.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man for several months. I have a very dear girl friend and he seems to want to break up our friendship, because he tells her things about me and the things about her which are not so. I no longer care to have anything to do with him. As deliberate snubbing is it would make him ashamed and might cure him of the habit.

I think it will be all right to ask him why he talks behind your back. It would make him ashamed and might cure him of the habit.

THE HABIT OF TAKING SALTS

Firmly but gently let us insist that the good old fashioned home remedies still hold their own as the best against all modern inventions, and salts is one of the old reliable. Yet reluctantly but frankly we must admit that the same old reliable is capable of doing a powerful amount of harm when abused. And it is abuse to take salts when you merely require a laxative.

Under certain circumstances no harm can be substituted for salts when definite results are to be obtained. By salts we mean Epsom, Rochelle, Chamber's, Carlsbad, phosphate of soda, sulfate of soda, in fact any salt that has a powerful purgative effect, either natural or artificial. But every kind of salt will do much harm if habitually or frequently taken merely to move the bowels.

The action of salts, no matter which salt is your favorite, is to draw water from the lining of the bowels. This, of course, causes irritation to which the bowel responds by increased activity, thus the effect of daily irritation of this kind over a period of many months or years!

Some of the salts, no matter which kind will be absorbed into the blood and eliminated through the kidneys. In a process of elimination the kidneys are irritated, and if the dose is a daily habit the kidney will in time suffer. The abuse of salts is one of the many causes of kidney disease in later life.

It is not abuse to resort to a dose of salt upon rare occasions, or several doses if necessary. It is not abuse to employ salts when your physician prescribes such medication for a particular purpose other than moving the bowels. It is abuse to take salts when a milder laxative will suffice and it is abuse to use salts merely for the purpose of producing an evacuation.

One of the least unpalatable saline laxatives and most effective when properly prepared and taken is the official solution of magnesium sulfate of the Pharmacopoeia. This pleasant solution may be freely prepared by the pharmacist on call, and the whole bottle (twelve ounces) should be taken by an adult in divided doses every half hour or so.

So far as effect is concerned, Epsom or Rochelle salts is quite as good as any other. Also quite as bad when abused. Many people use salts or other cathartics to accomplish that which an intelligent regulation of the diet would accomplish nicely.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

My work necessarily exposes me to poison ivy, and I have suffered numerous attacks in the past few years. I can no longer suffer one attack without suffering the next. There is no doubt of the nature of the trouble for I have consulted two good skin specialists. I read something in one of your articles that suggested the possibility of being immunized against it. Can you inform me whether this is possible? (A. M. C.)

Answer—You might try taking internally a drop or two of the extract of this toxicodendron (poison ivy) made in the strength of one per cent, after each meal, and double your dose every week for eight weeks. This has proved effective in several cases.

Hollow Back and Flat Feet in Children.

Our boy, aged ten seems delicate, yet the doctors find no particular cause for his going to sleep with headaches often, is rather thin, and doesn't do very well in school. Please do not consider us foolish, but we wonder if it can be worms. His grandmother declares he has worms, though the doctors say not. When he is stripped his back seems very hollow. (A. W. D.)

Answer—Well, the doctors ought to know. If grandma will prove her charge by finding eggs of the worms under the microscope, we'll report her victory in detail here. Hollow back, and perhaps the other symptoms, though the doctors say not. When he is stripped his back seems very hollow or pronated feet. It is difficult to believe that such a cause would be overlooked by doctors, but a great many causes of it have been overlooked when the doctor fails to have his patient strip for examination.

Keep your hands out of your pockets and do not cross your legs when ladies are present.

Gabrielle: It has come to be quite the custom for young girls to go ungloved in the evenings. It seems to be chiefly a matter of choice. Gloves are always proper, but it is not necessary to wear them at a dance, or at any other evening party, excepting a wedding, a reception, or a formal dinner where they are taken off while one is eating. If your sleeve must reach the elbow, your glove must reach the sleeve, but if your sleeve is very short, the glove need be only long enough to cover the elbow. If you wear gloves keep them on during the evening, unless it is necessary to remove them while eating refreshments.

E. S. T.: Since the young lady you have recently become engaged to lives in another town, it would be proper and courteous of her parents to make a short visit to their home. The invitation should not come from the young lady, but from her mother. If it is not extended you will have to stay at the hotel during your visit.

CORN AND CHEESE.

Corn may be used with cheese in place of macaroni, specialists of the United States department of agriculture point out for the preparation of a delicious and nutritious combination dish. The following recipe has been worked out by the department specialists:

One cup of samp (coarsely ground or cracked corn), one quart of water, one and one-fourth teaspoons salt.

Roll the samp in the salted water until tender. Drain and combine with the following sauce:

One cup skim milk, one cup finely cut cheese, two tablespoons flour, one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon mustard, paprika, and other seasonings.

Mix the seasonings with the dry flour. Add enough milk to form into a smooth paste. Add the remainder of the milk and heat to a stewing temperature, stirring until thick. Add the cheese and stir until it is thoroughly melted.

Put a layer of the boiled samp in a baking dish, casserole, or a layer of sauce and so on alternately until the material is all used. Sprinkle bread crumbs over the top layer of sauce and cook in a medium oven until the crumbs are browned.

Love hominy or pulled corn to give it both its southern and its northern name) may be used in place of coarse cracked corn in the preparation of this dish. If this product is used, it is unnecessary to heat it until it is placed in the oven. A richer sauce may be made, if desired, as follows:

Two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one cup milk, one cup finely cut cheese, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon mustard, pepper or paprika.

Melt the butter in a saucepan. Mix it into the flour and seasonings. Add the milk and heat, stirring constantly, until the sauce becomes thick and smooth. Add the cheese and stir until it is melted.

USING ALL OF THE ASPARAGUS.

Asparagus is one of our very best succulent vegetables. We should make the most of it while it is in season. It is so easily digested that it is good for children and invalids as well as for grown-up people. In cooking asparagus the entire bunch should be utilized. The tough ends may be cut off and put into the kettle. The tender asparagus may be put in a cheesecloth bag and laid on top of the tough ends. Caught in the steam, the tender asparagus will be cooked until it is tender, which will take about twenty-five or thirty minutes. The cheesecloth bag may be lifted and the asparagus served either with butter sauce on toast or with cream dressing. The tough ends may be split open and rubbed through a sieve and added to the liquid in which the asparagus has been cooked, as a foundation for asparagus soup.

HUNGARIAN PAPRIKA CHICKEN.

For this dish select a fowl weighing about four or five pounds. Disjoint and rub each piece thoroughly with a mixture of minced garlic, a little olive oil, lemon juice, salt and strong black pepper. Have a generous quantity of chicken grease (which has been fried from the fat of a chicken) and brown the fowl in it, turning it until it takes color. Then add enough clear white soup stock to more than cover the chicken and simmer until thoroughly done. Add two cups of this cream or rich milk, let it boil up once, shake in enough paprika to color the sauce red and serve in a deep bowl covered with the sauce.

ROSE PASTE.

Gather a cup of rose petals from full blown, but not withered roses, and three cups of fine sugar and chop until it becomes a smooth mass; heat thoroughly in the oven, but not long enough to entirely melt the sugar. Put in air tight jars and keep for several months before using. This paste is far superior to any extract and, being very strong, a small quantity will flavor a cake.

WHY NOT SAVE MONEY

by making your own ice cream
with our North Pole Metal Freezer. It is a simple task as perfect ice cream can be turned out from One, Two, Three and Four-quart sizes.

Don't try to get along without a refrigerator
another season. The saving in food and the satisfaction of food better kept will more than pay for a refrigerator. If not convenient to pay cash will make terms.
